Building Intellectual Community
Between Undergraduate Students and Faculty Outside the Classroom Context
Funded by the Office of the Senior Vice President and Provost

REQUEST FOR PROPOSAL

The Office of the Senior Vice President and Provost has established, as one of its highest priorities, fostering undergraduate student mentorship and developing meaningful intellectual exchange between undergraduate students and faculty outside the classroom context. To this end, the Office of the Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost has established a seed money fund for the development and/or implementation of initiatives directed at strengthening undergraduate student/faculty co-curricular intellectual community. (Proposals can focus only on development [not implementation], or on both development and implementation.)

Undergraduate students, graduate students, faculty, and/or administrator teams are invited to submit a proposal by Monday, May 1, 2006. Proposal teams must be comprised of at least one faculty member and one undergraduate student. RFP’s should follow the attached outline. Funding may be requested for one year beginning in FY 2007. Proposal teams must attach a letter of support from a department chair and/or a college dean to their RFP. The maximum award will be for a total of $5000.

Submit six hard copies of your proposal to: Dr. Robert Waters, Office of the Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost, 1119 Main Administration Bldg., Campus Zip 5031.

Submit one electronic copy of your proposal to: c sternheim@psyc.umd.edu

Please direct any questions about this RFP to Dr. Charles E. Sternheim, Professor, Department of Psychology: c sternheim@psyc.umd.edu.

RFP Deadline: Monday, May 1, 2006.

If your team’s proposal is funded, you will recognized by the Provost, and your abstract and team member names will be included in an announcement to the campus community.
