Welcome.

The Office of Professional Studies links the University of Maryland's vast resources to the world beyond its campus. We are creating some of the most innovative and responsive educational programs, delivering them with an eye toward convenience and accessibility.

Our theme is "keep learning."
In conjunction with the university's academic departments, we deliver the right mix of people, programs and services to keep individuals, companies, government agencies, professional associations and other nonprofits out in front.

A COMPREHENSIVE APPROACH

- Master's Degrees
- Graduate Certificates
- Online Programs
- Continuing Education Units
- Consulting and Professional Development

The University of Maryland is a leading research institution and ranks 17th in the nation among public universities. Our scholars and researchers are recognized worldwide for their contributions to the advancement of knowledge and its practical application to the workplace.
Keep Learning. Why Would You Ever Want To Stop?

Learning is integral to everything we do. It is the birthplace of innovation. It helps organizations reach higher. It is the path to success for individuals everywhere.

Our job at the Office of Professional Studies is simple. It is to connect the people who teach with the people who wish to learn. We bring the faculty and resources of the University of Maryland to people and organizations seeking to learn.

This Is What We Provide.

• New interdisciplinary degrees, Master of Professional Studies and Graduate Certificate in Professional Studies, to fit the changing needs of professionals and organizations.
• Strategic and customized workplace solutions including short courses and noncredit certificates, to employees of corporations, professional organizations and government agencies.
• Cutting-edge online learning to individuals of diverse interests, ages, backgrounds and professional goals across the globe.
• Expert consulting services expressly to develop and bring to the marketplace high quality education relevant to an ever-demanding world of learners.
• A menu of services from online registration to market research, designed to support each program.
• Continuing Education Credits (CEUs) awarded and administered by the University of Maryland.
We Make It Efficient, Effective And Convenient.

The Office of Professional Studies is organized to provide a wealth of expertise and breadth of services to satisfy many educational needs. Whether it's program development services for corporate and government clients or online studies, OPS brings the faculty and resources of the university to you. We are able to provide maximum efficiency within the university and the most effective learning models. And we are able to deliver these programs in a way that provides easy access for our clients.
