Bowie State University

Maryland's oldest historically black institution, Bowie State University is recognized as a national leader among HBCUs in graduating students in technology. It is one of the four regional comprehensive universities in the University System of Maryland. It has grown to a campus of over one million square feet of academic and auxiliary buildings, located on 338.5 acres in Bowie, Maryland. The university comprises four schools: School of Arts and Sciences; School of Education; School of Professional Studies; and School of Business. Bowie State offers a doctoral program in educational leadership; 11 master's degree programs and 25 undergraduate majors in disciplines as diverse as computer science, education, human resource development, communications, and nursing.